The Wutherich & Co. Composite was down 9.0% in January. This compares with the S&P/TSX being down 0.4%.

Yes, down 9%. Russia, Covid, inflation, interest rates and the supply chain are all impacting the market. Covid and the supply chain are having specific impacts on some of our companies, often more so than expected. When this has happened, their stock prices have reacted violently. While some of these impacts are, no doubt significant, I don't believe that they will permanently impair these companies. For now, we are happy to be patient and see how they work themselves out of their current challenges. Outside of Armageddon, we still see the potential for very good long-term price appreciation for our portfolio, with a 2.5% dividend yield to boot.

It is RRSP season and we strongly recommend that our clients look at their portfolios and make contributions where they feel they are appropriate.

Lastly, we would like to send out a heartfelt Thank You! to all that attended our Wutherich & Co. Annual Update held on January 26, 2022.

Company Objective

Our goal is to seek prosperity for our clients through participation in stable, growing companies in North America, led by strong management teams that we consider our partners for the next five or more years.

Investment Philosophy

Our style can be described as concentrated, disciplined, long-term growth stock investing. The focus is on established companies that generally have a demonstrated track record in revenue, cash flow or earnings per share growth, with strong managements and solid balance sheets. The current emphasis in the portfolio is on the equity of small to medium capitalization companies, defined roughly as $50 million to $5 billion in market capitalization. The portfolio may include large capitalization companies if the right elements are there. Stocks are bought with a keen eye to valuation, so you're not likely to find many high multiple stocks here. The portfolio will likely maintain a significant percentage in foreign securities, providing exposure to investment returns outside of Canada.

*The Wutherich & Co. performance shown here (using the Time Weighted Rate of Return method) is of a composite which combines the performance of all of the accounts managed by Wutherich & Co. that have been invested according to the Wutherich & Co. Portfolio throughout their history. These accounts vary greatly in the size of assets that they contain and whether or not fees have been deducted directly from the accounts during their history. TSX = S&P/TSX Total Return Index. Due to its large capitalization nature and substantially different sector weightings, this index may not be considered comparable to the Wutherich & Co. Portfolio.
