For June, the Wutherich & Co. Composite was up 5.1%.

The snapback has continued for now. Whither? We certainly don't know but are glad to own companies in the portfolio that are showing great resilience to the macro and geopolitical uncertainty in the world around us.

Last month, we gave an example of one of these companies, namely Black Diamond Inc. (BDI-T). Another example is Propel Holdings Inc. (PRL-T), a Toronto-based financial services company specializing in loans to sub-prime borrowers in the US with smaller operations in Canada and the U.K. The company has no physical branches and leans heavily on automated systems and artificial intelligence to screen for prospective borrowers. Much of this was developed in-house and is considered proprietary, allowing them to sell this capability to other institutions as another product line which they call Lending-As-A-Service (LAAS). As large banks tighten their lending criteria in the current environment, more people spill into PRL's prospect pool. This, combined with exceptional operating practices and the ability to sell LAAS, is allowing the company to grow earnings at a pace greater than 25% while trading at a P/E ratio of only 14 times. We'll take that combination all day long.

The following table illustrates the performance of the Wutherich & Co. Composite to the present:

Company Objective

Our goal is to seek prosperity for our clients through participation in stable, growing companies in North America, led by strong management teams that we consider our partners for the next five or more years.

Investment Philosophy

Our style can be described as concentrated, disciplined, long-term growth stock investing. The focus is on established companies that generally have a demonstrated track record in revenue, cash flow or earnings per share growth, with strong managements and solid balance sheets. The current emphasis in the portfolio is on the equity of small to medium capitalization companies, defined roughly as $50 million to $5 billion in market capitalization. The portfolio may include large capitalization companies if the right elements are there. Stocks are bought with a keen eye to valuation, so you're not likely to find many high multiple stocks here. The portfolio will likely maintain a significant percentage in foreign securities, providing exposure to investment returns outside of Canada.

*The Wutherich & Co. performance shown here (using the Time Weighted Rate of Return method) is of a composite which combines the performance of all the accounts managed by Wutherich & Co. that have been invested according to the Wutherich & Co. Portfolio throughout their history. These accounts vary greatly in the size of assets that they contain and whether or not fees have been deducted directly from the accounts during their history. TSX-TR = S&P/TSX Total Return Index. Due to its large capitalization nature and substantially different sector weightings, this index may not be considered comparable to the Wutherich & Co. Portfolio. As the Wutherich & Co. portfolio does not compare directly with any known indices, we show the S&P/TSX index only as a reference for the overall Canadian stock market and should not be considered as a direct comparison to what we do.
